Equine Flexion Therapy (EFT)

designed by Dan Marcum, Equine Adjuster, Farrier

EFT is a system that can help a farrier become a better farrier. It is a system that can be done in conjunction with a farrier business, or just by itself.

Through a process of stretching and flexing, massage, and deep motion flexing, Equine Flexion Therapy can help keep horses more flexible and comfortable, aligning the spine without chiropractic adjustments and addressing the muscles that control the skeleton.

Evaluation is done through testing the range of motion and palpation tests. Then the muscle therapy and deep motion flexing can help align the spine, and the treated muscles will help prevent the spine from being pulled out of alignment.

The BWFA is a Congressional member of the American Horse Council

FYI...The AHC was formed in February, 1969, by a group of horsemen concerned about federal legislation affecting their business that was ultimately defeated. In the ensuing forty years, the issues have multiplied, but the AHC is still here representing your interests in Washington and has had continued success. (Read more online)

Don't let the need for health insurance coverage keep you from shoeing full time.
